ADMINISTRATORS APPROVE POLICY CHANGES

The 1971-72 school year will long be hailed as a year when RTHS took a step toward better education. The citizens of the community voiced their support for RTHS by passing the school's tax referendum, thereby preventing further educational cutbacks. Students enjoyed new freedoms, such as double lunch periods and cafeteria study halls, with a choice of studying or watching TV. In addition to these changes, a change in the English curriculum has been planned for the 72-73 school year.

STUDENT COUNCIL ACTIVE

Double, double,
Toil and trouble,
Students burn,
Administration bubbles.

The Student Council had an active year. Variety Review was a success and raised $380 for AFS activities. At Christmas time the council sponsored a sock hop and took donations for gifts for children at Saint Vincent's orphanage.

Besides sponsoring projects for others, council members enjoyed festivities of their own. In March the council held a bowling party followed by a "tube steak" supper. They also enjoyed a hay ride and a picnic shared with AFS.

TATLER TACKLES TOUGH TASKS

Because of financial reductions in school operations, the Tatler for the first time had to be completely self-supporting. In spite of the handicap, the staff held the price line and worked for another good book, even adding one new feature, "Senior Superlatives."

Some of the other handicaps the staffers had to endure were elephant jokes, W. C. Fields imitations, and insults about inefficiency, but through it all the Tatler crew maintained its sense of humor and managed to make nearly all the deadlines on time.

COLOR OUR WORLD

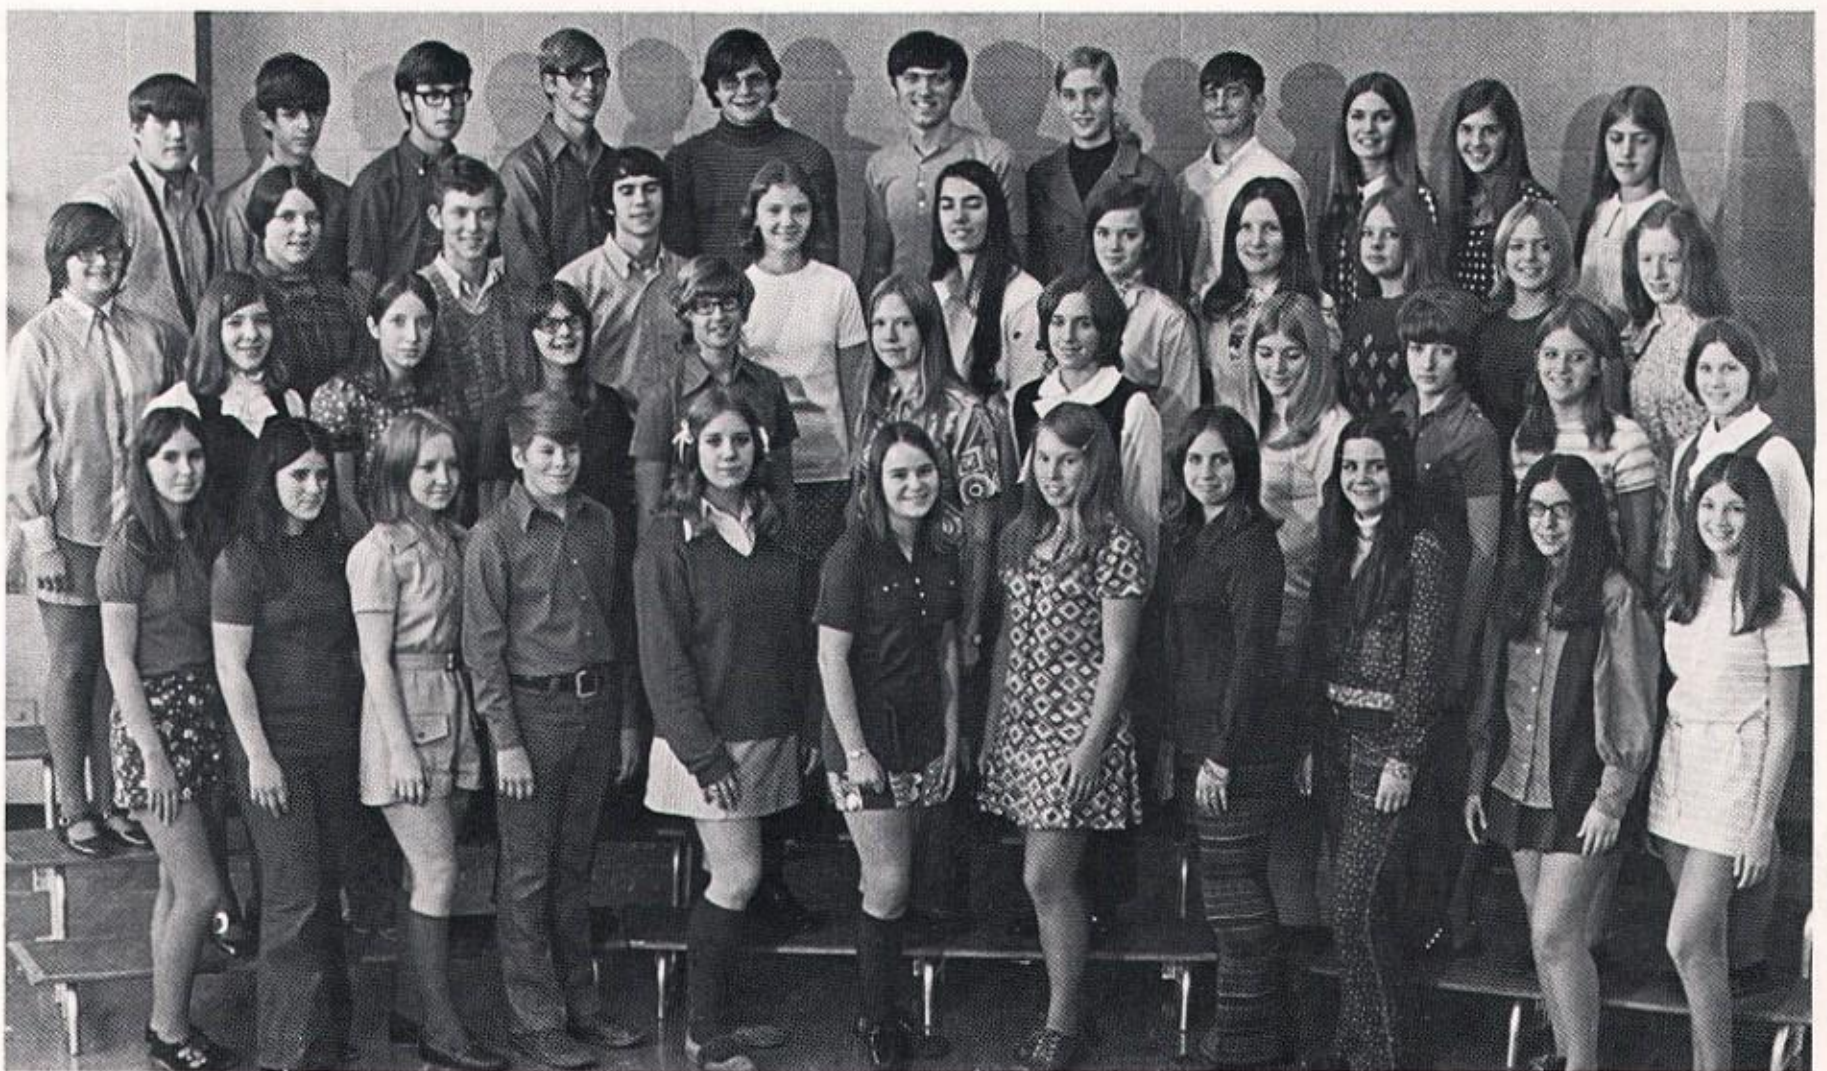

Color our world. Paint it with the warmth of red, comforting green, and the gaiety of yellow—that is the theme of Art Club. We believe in the freedom of expression for each student. We seek to develop individual potential and understanding, and we explore creativity.

We stimulate interest in and appreciation of great works of art through our annual trip to the Chicago art museum and by giving a replica of some great work to the school each year.

We have learned that through art we can continue to discover our world, to explore our own imaginations, to express our feelings, and to experience life.

After Christmas, work began on the one-act contest play, "The Theater of the Soul," which was awarded a first in district competition and tied for second in conference competition.

Later a children's show, "The Wizard of Oz," was performed in two of the local grade schools. Finally, the Thespians and Jesters combined to present "Becket" in the spring.

LETTERMEN ACTIVE

Among the projects the club offered were car washes, a dance, and candy sales at basketball games. They also put on a basketball game between the Harlem Diplomats and local all stars as a fund raising activity. Finally they sponsored a candy sale together with the G.A.A.

Funds from the various projects were used to buy an ice machine which is used by the athletic department in treatment of injuries. Also, in conjunction with the G.A.A., they helped to buy an equipment storage building for Helm's field. They also donated one hundred dollars to the school library.

GIRLS ON THE GO

During 1971-1972 the Girl's Athletic Association prospered in spite of the infamous Spring slumber party, being taken from the year's schedule. Besides playing tennis, basketball, volleyball, softball, or participating in a bowling tournament, the R.T.H.S. G.A.A. attended work shops, playdays, planned Halloween and caroling parties, and initiated new members. Besides giving the usual membership awards, the girls managed to give a $100 scholarship to a senior majoring in physical education, and sent two members to G.A.A. summer camp.

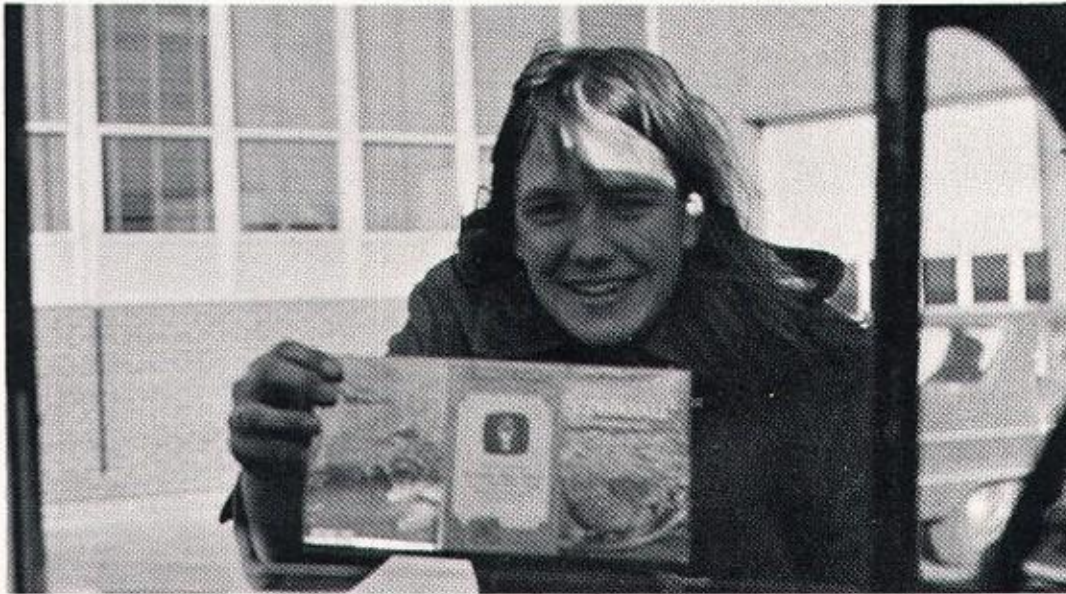

Members of the winning team in the G.A.A. bowling tournament are Linda Ewald, Cindy Johnson, Kristi Betts, Diane Geiger, and Nancy Havens, the captain.

Led by captains Terry Walker and Bill Kubale (above), the 1971 Rochelle "Rats" fulfilled the prediction of last year's Tatler by going undefeated in conference play. Losing the first two games of the season, the Hubs went on to win the next six straight, and tie the last game of the season. The '71 gridders wound up with an impressive 6-2-1 record, the best since 1965.

Six Hub seniors, Bill Kubale, Tim O'Brien, Doug Byrd, Tom Wyatt, Terry Walker, and Bill Davey, were named to the NCIC All-Conference team. Larry West was named for special mention, and seniors Dave Peters and Don Schabacker and juniors Don Montgomery, Roger Pearson, and Paul Singer were given honorable mentions.

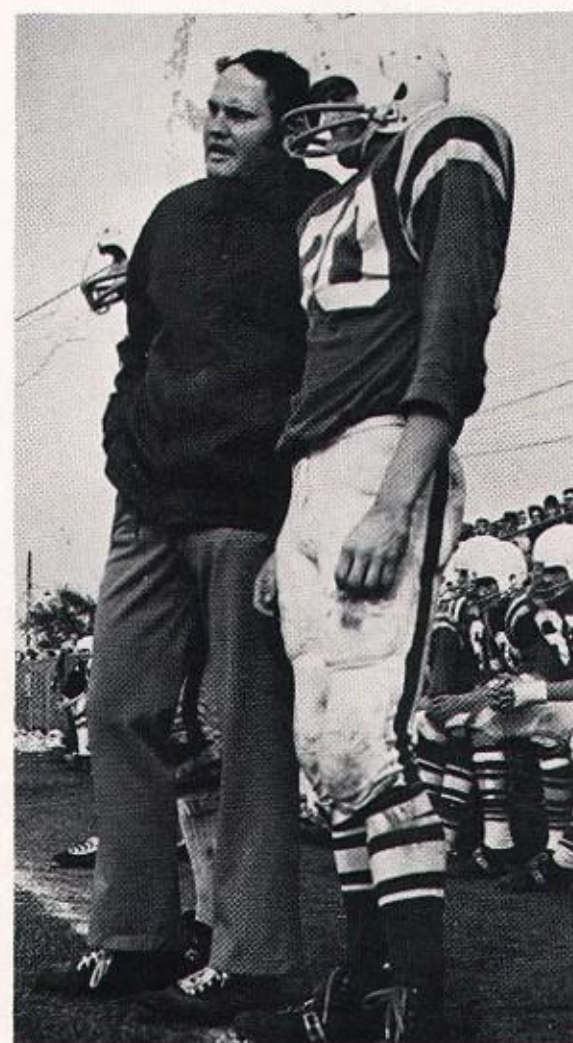

Although graduation will be taking many valuable gridders from the squad, there are many capable juniors and sophomores coming up to fill the gaps. With the help of Coach Colbert and Coach Stevens, next year's Hubs could again take the conference.

SECTIONAL REPEAT

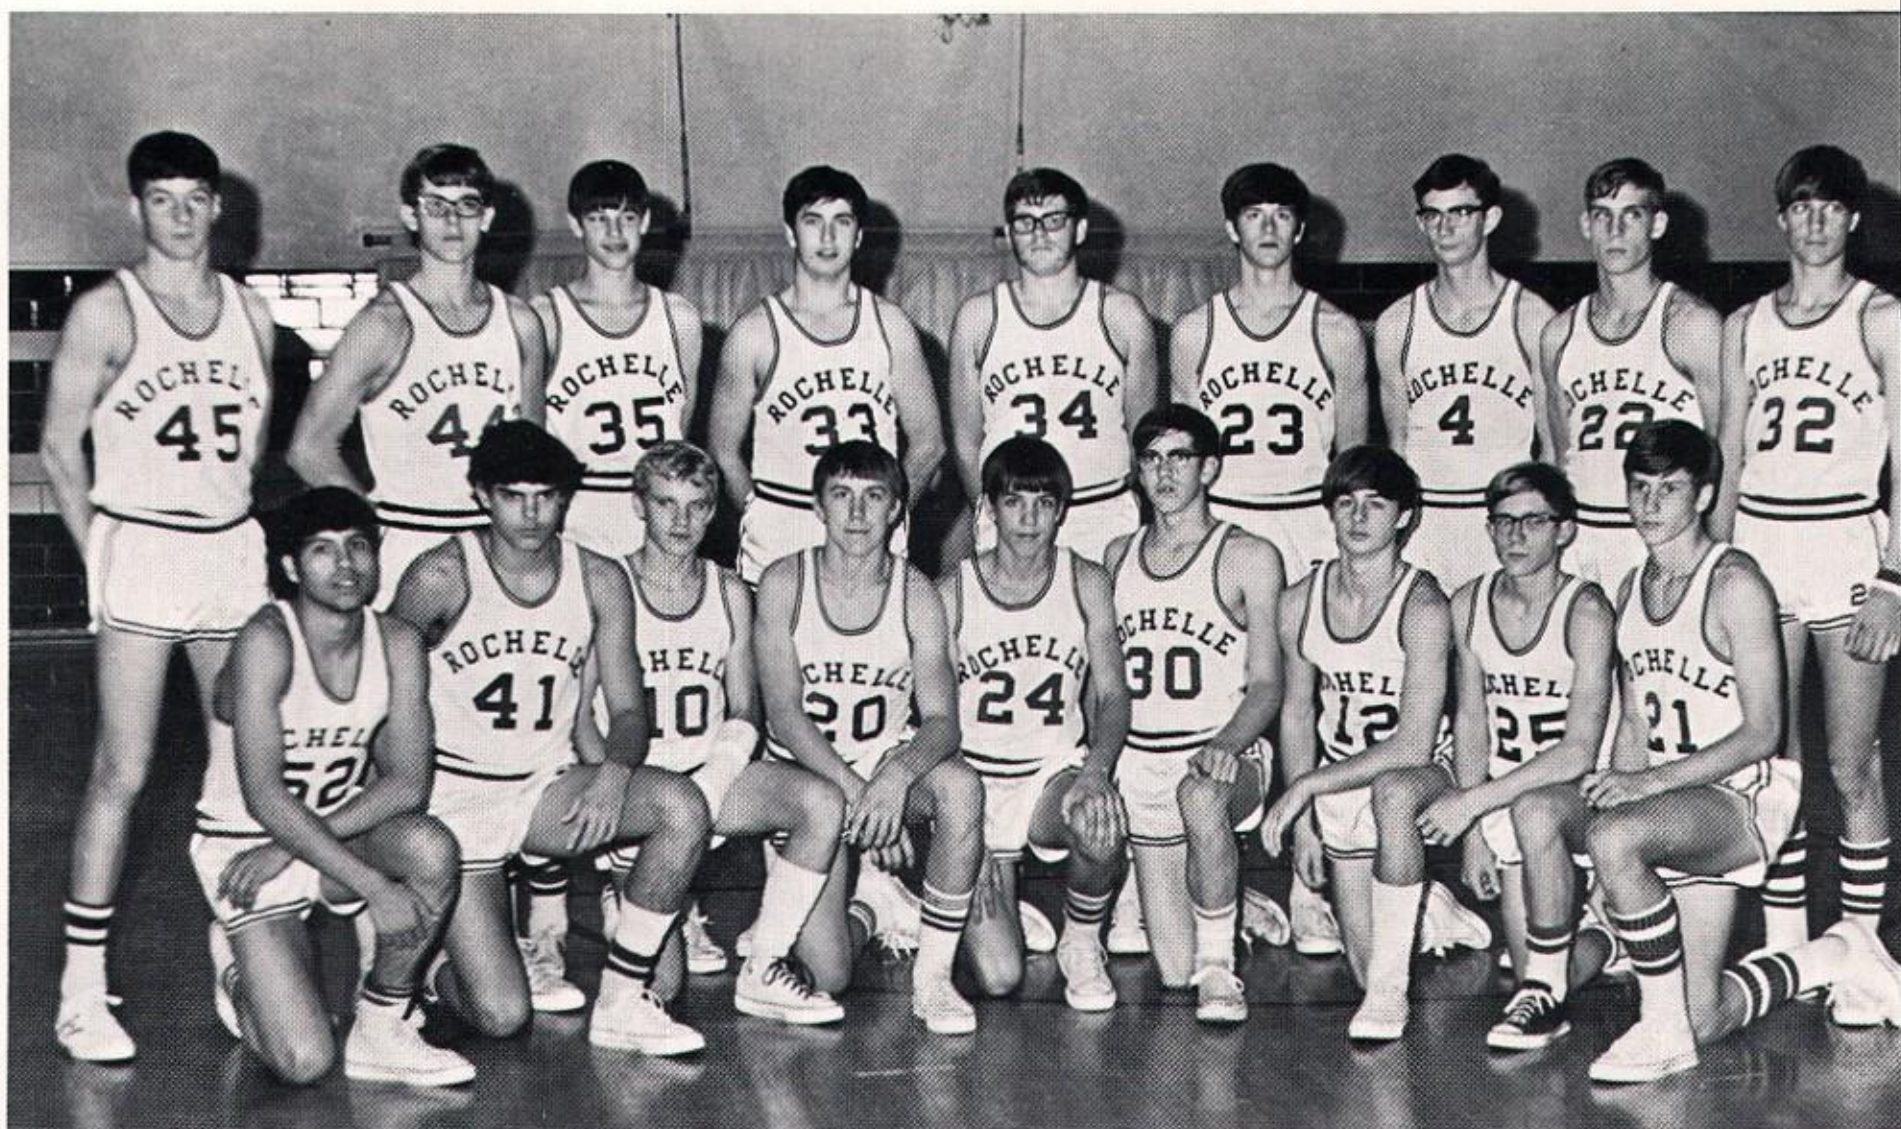

One again the Hub varsity basketball squad caused a delay in the opening of practice for spring sports as they won the DeKalb regional tournament and went on to place second in the Barrington sectional. Though the Hubs went into the playoffs with only a 6-16 record (and a 3-8 conference record, they edged both Sycamore and DeKalb in the first tourney and whipped Barrington before losing to Conant High in the sectional championship.

After winning the Fenton invitational tourney to open the season, they went into a slump in which they lost nine straight, but later they came back to beat a number of teams which were considerably taller than the Hubs by using a controlled style of play. Their improvement was evident as they took six of the final eight games of the season.

ROCHELLE SENDS TWO WRESTLERS TO THE STATE FINALS

Three Hub wrestlers were outstanding in the state meet this year. Tim Anderson, Malcolm Milligan and Dave Peters all scored either first or second in the DeKalb district meet to advance to sectional competition at Leyden. Milligan and Peters finished in second place at the sectional to gain state berths.

At the state meet in Normal, Milligan dropped his first round match, but he wrestled back, pinning his final opponent to finish third in the state at 119 pounds. Milligan's season record was 28-4.

Peters finished the year with a 14-11-1 record at 126 pounds. Anderson, a junior, was 18-5-2 at 105 pounds.

CLASSES

FRESHMEN, THE NEWCOMERS

On the run are the Freshmen officers Vonda McCammon, Secretary; Tom Walker, Vice President; Mark Rossi, President; and Rick Reed, Treasurer.

To make a freshman, mix the following ingredients well: unlimited amount of innocence and fear of upperclassmen; a few pinches of intelligence powder (only if desired); sifted energy in an amount equal to the innocence and fear; 50,000 drops of Happiness Extract; and one tablespoon of vinegar. Important: your freshman will only be genuine if you remember to add several nuts and marbles.

Next: boil him in oil for 14-15 years, until soft in the center. Do not overcook. Let cool, then mold into somewhat human form. Make sure he is bigger than a breadbox and smaller than a sophomore! Leave him in the sun for one day, and he'll be ready to go, End results: rather unlearned, but ambitious, person. Characteristics: plays "Mad Scientist" in I.P.S.; works hard on Algebra I and English I; trembles in P.E.; thinks Bird Cage is one of instruments in school's mythical torture chambers; spends time searching for elevator!

Luckily, your freshman will have enough good humor and ambition to pull through to his sophomore year!

Now I can put it back on my tricycle and it'll be ready to run.

SOPHS SURVIVE SECOND YEAR

"Your sophomore year took a little more effort than your freshman year, didn't it? I told you it would. And I was speaking from experience; I went through it all last year, y'know. However, only you were to blame for your problems. 'Bug-ology' wasn't that hard. You just shouldn't have waited until the first frost came before you started on your plant and insect collections. If you'd applied yourself, you wouldn't have done so poorly in geometry, either. I'll admit that English II might have been a little difficult, but I'll bet you learned a lot. Right? Right!

"Don't forget though, your sophomore year had its good points. Although you did total the new driver education car, wasn't it fun to drive with an instructor for the first time? I also noticed that you jumped at your first chance to buy a class ring. I must admit that you got a pretty cool ring; it's just like mine.

"And remember, Joe Sophomore, next year you'll be a big, cool upperclassman—just like me!"

Sophomore Symphony.

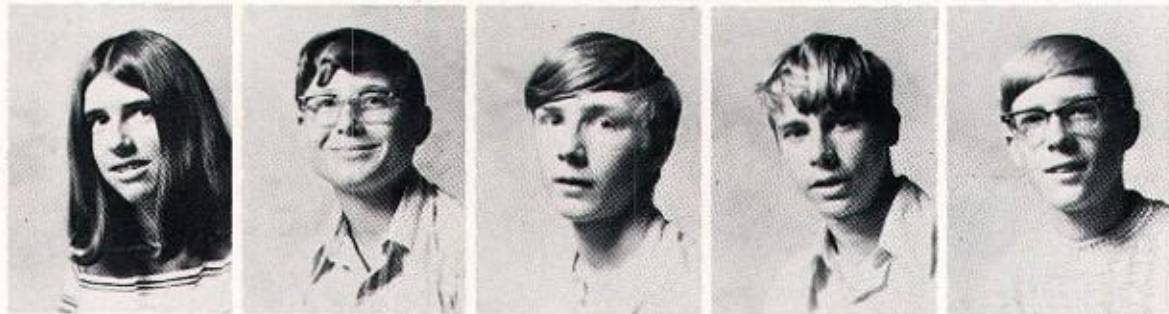

Heading for their junior year are sophomore class officers Mary McCarthy, president; Lesa Parsley, vice-president; Mary Rainwater, secretary; and Lynn Hayes, treasurer.

JUNIORS JOIN UPPER-CLASSMEN

Junior class officers Liz Lohrmann, vice-president; Diana Oleson, secretary; Don Gruben, president; and Brian Richards, treasurer, appear bushed after a long, hard year.

Remember your junior year? Weird, green gases seeped from the chemistry room—followed, perhaps by the sounds of a minor explosion. Fierce shouts blasted their way out of the Algebra II rooms: "What? You don't have your assignment done again?!" English III classes on the third floor echoed with the scratch of pens working on compositions, as the teacher doodled away on the blackboard. If those classes weren't enough to keep you busy, there were extra-curricular activities.

Working in the madhouse of concession stands was nearly as exciting as watching the game. Bratty little kids wanted you to fill their cokes to the brim, nobody ever knows the score, and at half-time all hot chocolate and hot dogs disappeared. Selling mums to finance the prom was another big junior enterprise. You and your classmates rang doorbells and gave sales pitches till you were blue in the face. Later in the year, you helped take care of setting up the prom.

Being a junior took work and guts. But how sweet it was!

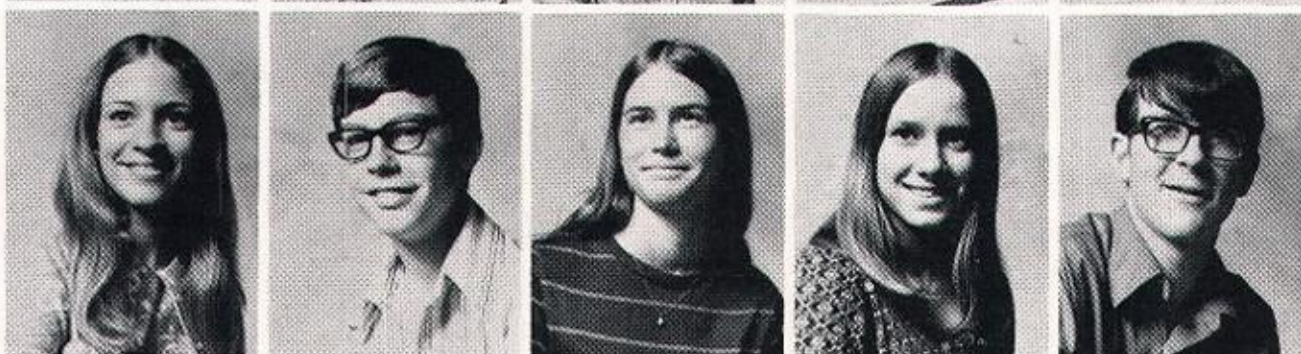

"Well, here goes another exciting day in English class!"

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

Marv Metzger, an honor student, was president of the class of 1972.

Dave Baker, serving his first term as a class officer, was vice-president of the senior class.

Carlen Quinn served as secretary for the class.

Joann Kingsbury was chosen to be class treasurer.

Class-ical Songs

It has been said that music is a way of expressing one's feelings. Throughout our high school lives, from our freshman year to our senior year, songs have been written which describe our feelings.

"Shaft"

On August 29, 1968, two-hundred ninety-eight freshmen enrolled in Rochelle Township High School. After being lost, buying passes to make believe elevators, following directions which led to the boiler room, and being last in lunch lines, these bewildered "Greenies" quickly decided they were getting the "Shaft."

"Promises, Promises"

In August of 1969, two-hundred eighty-two of us returned to the halls of R.T.H.S. to a sophomore year of looking forward...to picking out class rings, to passing the driver's test, and to just being upper classmen. As sophomores we were constantly bombarded with statements like, "Next year you can"... Promises, Promises. That's what sophomores heard.

"Anticipation"

Prom...football game...prom...chemistry test ...prom...prom. That's how the thoughts of the two-hundred fifty-one juniors went most of the year which began in August of 1970. The juniors survived however after a year of "Anticipation" to enjoy a lovely evening on "The Threshold of a Dream."

"Mr. Big Stuff"

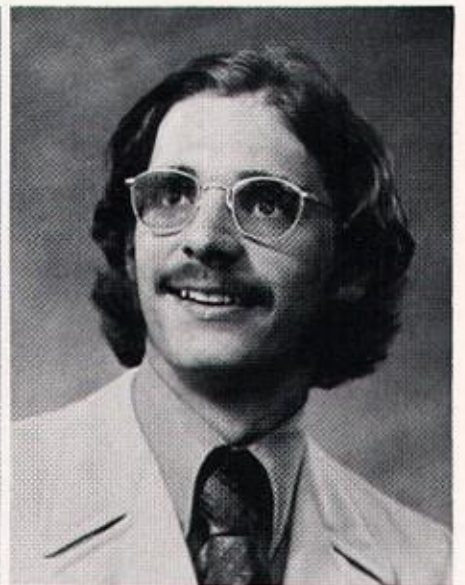

The seniors who returned for their final year at R.T.H.S. numbered two-hundred thirty in August of 1971. They elected three kings at the homecoming celebration, led the team in winning the conference football title, and grabbed the best library magazines first to leave their mark on the school.

Though songs have been written which describe our experiences, none has been written to convey the feeling we have now as we leave R.T.H.S. and go our separate ways in the world.
